

Contents

Chapter 1: Interactive Spirit and Teacher Preparation in the Arts	1
Chapter 2: The Evaluation of the Art Product and Process.....	7
The Value of Judgment • The Self-evaluation of One's Own Art Works • The History of the Visual Scale for Spontaneity and Deliberateness in Art • Use of the Scale for Spontaneity and Deliberateness in Art • Analytical Visual-Verbal Judgments • The Spontaneous and Deliberate Line Drawing Scale by Gogel • The Evaluation of Progress in Art Products • Evaluation of Student Attitudes Toward the Working Process • Use of the Process Response Form • Spontaneous and Deliberate Criteria • Relationship of Attitude and Work • Progress and our Educational Goals
Chapter 3: The Spontaneous Student	64
Introduction • The Spontaneous Personality Style • Differences Between Spontaneous High and Low Students • Importance of Motion in the Art of Spontaneous Students • Manner of Work of Spontaneous Students • Spontaneous Student Response to Teacher Suggestions • Relationship of Spontaneous Students to the Art Product • Response of Spontaneous Students to the Art Process • Emotional Response of Spontaneous Students During the Working Process • Intellectual Response of Spontaneous Students During the Working Process • Positive and Negative Experiences During the Creative Process
Chapter 4: The Deliberate Student	116
Introduction • The Deliberate Personality Style • Differences Between Deliberate High and Low Students • Manner of Work of Deliberate Students • Deliberate Student Response to Teacher Suggestions • Product Orientation of Deliberate Students • Process Orientation of Deliberate Students • Emotional Response of Deliberate Students • Intellectual Response of Deliberate Students • Positive and Negative Experiences During the Creative Process

Chapter 5: Instructional Influences on Spontaneous and Deliberate Students 159

 Introduction • Methods of Instruction • Spontaneous Versus Deliberate Evaluative Orientations and Personality Preferences and Methods in Art Appreciation

Chapter 6: The Interactive Theory of Creative Education 197

 Introduction • The Creative Teacher and the Average Teacher • The Creative Teacher-Pupil Relationship • Creativity-Personality Factors in Teaching and Art • The Development of Educational Creativity • Art Teachers and Their Personality Creativity and Creativity in Art

Chapter 7: A Creative-Value System 225

Bibliography 229

Appendix I: Types of Student Teachers 235

 Description of a Creative Evaluative Teacher; Margaret, Fourth Grade, Public School • Description of a Creative Nonevaluative Teacher; Lynn, Second Grade, Public School • Description of a Factual Presentational Teacher; Lorraine, High School, Spanish • Description of a Factual Teacher; Doris, Fifth Grade, Public School

Appendix II: Natural Science Foundation — Penn State Graduate Art Education Creativity Study 239

 Description of Twelve Personality Creativity Predictors • Description of Six Criteria Measures for Creativity in Art

Appendix III: Tables 245

Index 257