

Contents

1. Selecting a subject: general considerations	1
Importance of suitable subject, 1
Criteria of selection, 2
Sources of subjects, 5
Limitation of subjects, 7
Assignments, 9
2. Selecting a subject: purposes and types of speeches	10
For a speech to inform, 10
For a speech to persuade, 12
For a speech to inspire, 16
For a speech to entertain, 18
For a speech to lead inquiry, 20
Assignments, 20
Preliminary speech outline, 21
Critique form, 22
3. Analyzing a subject	23
Nature of analysis, 23
Importance of analysis, 24
General procedures, 25
For speeches to inform, 26
For speeches to persuade, 27
For speeches to inspire, 31
For speeches to entertain, 33
For speeches to lead inquiry, 35
Assignments, 36

4. Investigating a subject	37
Investigation defined, 37
Primacy of general preparation, 38
Specific preparation: general hints, 41
Miscellaneous procedures, 42
Using libraries, 43
Assignments, 46
5. Outlining and patterns of arrangement	47
Theory of outlining, 47
Patterns of arrangement, 55
Assignments, 69
6. Introductions, conclusions, and transitions	70
Introductions, 70
Conclusions, 80
Transitions, 90
Assignments, 91
 Bibliography, 92
 Index, 95	