

Table of Contents

ONE
The Source Paper: First Considerations	1
The Source Paper and Its Readers
Primary and Secondary Sources
Choosing a Topic
Determining the Sources
The Use of Reference Books
Bibliography Cards and Bibliography
TWO
How Sources Are Used	11
Quotation
Quotation with Ellipses
Summary Restatement Including Brief Quotation
Interpretive Account
The Use of Secondary Sources
Combining Sources in a Short Paper: An Example
THREE
The Use of Note Cards	29
The Purpose of the Notetaking and the Sources
The Note Cards
Notes into Paper
FOUR
Planning the Structure	35
Chronological Analysis
Division
Outlines
Two Special Provisions in Structural Plans

FIVE
Documentation	41
Titles and Writers' Names
Documentation Within the Text
Footnotes and Footnote Numbers
Footnote References to Books
Footnote Preparation for Within-text References
Footnote References to Periodicals
Supporting Footnotes
Text and Documentation on the Page
SIX
Problems in the Use of Sources	55
The Economical Use of a Secondary Source
A Secondary Source Used for Background
A Source with a Difficult Style
The Economical Use of a Substantial Passage
A Use of a Literary Source
SEVEN
Problems in the Combination of Sources	69
The Proportional Use of Secondary Material
Making the Most of the Sources
Two Sources in Literary Discussion
A Study of the Composition of a Novel
EIGHT
The Detail of Structure	83
Title and Beginning
Transition
Paragraphing and Paragraphs in Sequence
Concluding
Revision
NINE
A Complete Paper	89
Topic, Determination of Sources, and Planning
The Primary Sources
The Paper
Problems of Structure, Approach, and Documentation
Appendix	114
Standard Reference Works
Index	119
Abbreviations
Source Paper Forms and Style	