

Contents

Series editor's foreword	7
Preface	9
Acknowledgements	13
1. The nature of evaluation	15
Formal evaluation	16
The purpose of evaluation	18
Approaches to evaluation	21
Conclusion	29
2. The wider environment and evaluation	31
The external environment	31
Accountability and quality concerns	34
Accountability and evaluation	36
Monitoring and evaluation	38
Conclusion	42
3. Baseline student statistics	45
The need for information	45
Data resources	47
Student progress and drop-out	57
Conclusion	65
4. Programme and curriculum development	66
Introduction	66
Programme development	67
Programme viability	72
Piloting and pump-priming	76
Conclusion	80

5. Course development and delivery	81
Evaluation design	81
Evaluation at the course design stage	82
Evaluation at the course development stage	85
Evaluation at the course presentation stage	90
Conclusion	99
6. Student recruitment and support services	101
Pre-registration issues	101
Teaching and support systems	108
7. Developing your own programme evaluation system	116
The purpose of your evaluation system	117
The intended nature of your evaluation system	120
The need for clear evaluation policies	123
Options for agreeing evaluation priorities	124
Conclusion	127
8. Organizing your programme evaluation system	128
Research tools and methodologies	128
Types of studies used for evaluation activities	130
Organizing your system	138
Conclusion	142
9. A self-improving system	143
A self-improving system	143
Who is going to be involved and in what way?	144
What are the questions which have to be asked?	147
How and when is the self-evaluation to be done?	150
What are the resource implications?	154
References	155
Index	160